

Aviaries, Cages and Breeding Boxes

Breeding Cage Size/Dimensions

Budgerigars prefer as much room to exercise as possible. Available space will dictate the size of the breeding cage.

Commercially manufactured Breeding Cages range between 12 inches height x 18 inches wide to 18 inches height x 36 inches wide. Depth being approximately 12 to 16 inches.

Experience shows that the larger the breeding cage the more successful the clutches.

(need to add picture of large breeding cage)

You can also click here for more information Nesting Box Information

Unique solution ID: #1011

Author: n/a

Last update: 06-Mar-2008 09:01