Show Budgerigar

How are show birds housed?

Show budgies are housed with the other birds in flights or aviaries. It is only when the show time comes that they are then prepared for the big show. Dressing or grooming your bird for show day

Show bird usually have a more relaxed charactor than the average bird. The chicks are handled often to inspect the growth and look of the birds. The hens rarely bite and not as bad if they do. So when it is time for showing them they are used to the procedures.

They are placed in stock cages a week before the show to protect them and make it easier to handle.

All the birds are feed well. What is the diet of a show bird?

The top show bird is well looked after as well as is the birds that he/she came from.
