Birdluv Beak Appetite

A couple of weeks ago, I bought some beak appetit for my budgies and I thought that instead of buying this product for them why not make it myself. so I read the ingredients and I came up with this...Created by Birdluv

I used frozen veggies that where already chopped.
- carrots
- corn
- green beans
- peas
- broccoli
(you can add any type of veggies that your budgies like) next time, I'm going to add some sweet potatoes.

I also added some cooked grains;
- oats
- barley
- cracked wheat.
- couscous

I added some;
- crushed finely eggshells
when I serve this to my birds I add sometimes egg/biscuit mix too.
store bought beak appetit

homemade

after I mixed all the ingredients together, I put the mix into ice trays to freeze them. I also put away a small amount of the mix to keep in the fridge for a few days.

I put the trays in my freezer overnight. I ran them under some hot water so they would easily come out of the tray.

© 2026 Budgerigar Breeders Club Inc. <webmaster@budgiebreeders.asn.au> | 09-Nov-2026 23:55
URL: https://faq.budgiebreeders.asn.au/content/9/271/en/birdluv-beak-appetite.html

I then put them in lockable freezer bag.

to serve, I take one cube and unthaw it. since I only have 2 budgies I only give them half and I put the other half into the fridge for the next time. I serve this to my budgie every second day, the other days I give them fresh food.

Here is a picture of one of my budgies enjoying their meal. it is hard for me to capture them eating it, as soon as they see my camera they fly away

Unique solution ID: #1176
Author: Birdluv
Last update: 31-Aug-2008 15:42

© 2026 Budgerigar Breeders Club Inc. <webmaster@budgiebreeders.asn.au> | 09-Nov-2026 23:55
URL: https://faq.budgiebreeders.asn.au/content/9/271/en/birdluv-beak-appetite.html