Birdluv Beak Appetite

A couple of weeks ago, I bought some beak appetit for my budgies and I thought that instead of buying this product for them why not make it myself, so I read the ingredients and I came up with this...Created by Birdluv

Losed frozen eggists that where already chopped.
- carrots
- corn
- corn

- corn
- carrots
- corn
- c

I added some:
- crushed finely eggshells
when I serve this to my birds I add sometimes egg/biscuit mix too.
store bought beak appetit

I put the trays in my freezer overnight. I ran them under some hot water so they would easily come out of the tray.

I then nut them in lockable freezer has to serve. I take one cube and unthaw it, since I only have 2 budgies I only give them half and I out the other half into the fridge for the next time. I serve this to my budgie every second day, the other days I give them fresh food

Here is a picture of one of my hydrics existing their most it is hard for my to continue them exists it as soon as they see my common they fire average they see
